Well Known Minden Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Day

Wednesday, April 15, was a sunny beautiful day, just as it was 50 years ago, for the occasion of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hewitt, life-long residents of this district who at the age of 75 and 74 respectively enjoy life and health in this village where they are known by everyone as kind friends and good neighbors, keenly interested in all activities of Minden and district. The recipe they offer for long life and happiness is to be interested in the welfare of others and to keep your hands busy with the essential every day duties of life.

Mr. nad Mrs. Hewitt both of whom were born and raised in Stanhope Township, were married by Rev. Mr. Finning, of St. Paul's Parish, Minden, in 1903 and lived on the Hewitt homestead from then until eight years ago wheen they moved to Minden Village.

Theey have four sons and a daughter, namely: Alex of Carnarvon; Ernest, John, Earl of Minden and Minnie (Mrs. Stewart Dawson) of Maple Lake, who were all present for this great occasion; also 12 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Upon this auspicious occasion Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt were at home during the hours of 2-4 and 7-9 to their friends and over 125 neighbors and acquaintances called to congratulate them and wish them well.

Their home was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with golden colored daffodils, snap dragons and chrysanthemums and the dining room table, where Mrs. Sara Hewitt and Mrs. Amy Graham poured tea, was graced by a beautiful anniversary cake (decorated by Mrs. Neigh Sisson). Refreshments were erved the guests by the Daughters and Granddaughters, the household. Many were telegrams, cards and gifts received showing the esteeem in which the bride and groom of 50 years are held.

Friends and relatives were present from Peterboro, Lindsay, Haliburton, Eagle Lake, Boskung, Halls Lake, Maple Lake, Carnarvon and the village. Several group pictures were taken as Mr. Hewitt had two brothers present and Mrs. Hewitt had one brother and one sister present, which included the bridesmaid and groomsman of 50 years ago.

The Quiet Hour

by Stuart C. Wilson

National Olson has written a very excellent article entitled, "The Crowd May Be Wrong", and for our Quiet Hour today, I would pass it along to you because it applies so very much to condi tions in the world at this preent time.

Adam Thompson of Cincinnati, Ohio, near the middle of the 18th century, was the first American to fill a bath tub. Those who heard of it became alarmed. Doctors predicted rheumatism and in flammation of the lungs from such practise. Some American cities put a ban on bathtubs and even refused permission to do the new "bathtub exerrcises.". but today a home is not complete without a bathtub or shower. The crowd was wrong.

England once had a law forbidding a vehicle from exceeding four miles an hour. This law was amended so that if anyone desired to travel this fast they were to have a person going before them with a red flag warning the people of thedanger. But today we have transportation travelling at 100 times that speed. Once again the crowd was wrong.

Musicians groaned and laughed at the music Richard Wagner wrote. But his compositions have transformed the music world. The crowd was wrog.

Westinghouse was called a fool for daring to think that he could stop a railroad train with wind. But now the Westinghouse air brakes are used the world over. The crowd was wrong.

"Fulton's Folly" was the name the crowd gave to that first steamboat. But today sail the seven seas. The crowd was wrong.

Through ton of waste material Madame Curie sorted to get radium. "What is radium?" the crowd asked laughingly. Today it is a valuable asset in fighting dis ease. The laughing crowd was wrong.

For eleven years Goodytar and his wife worked on vulcanizing rubber. Everyone laughed at Goodyear but today, wherever rubber is named, you hear the name Goodyear. The crowd was wrong. .....

Publishers told Zane Grey that he had no writing ability. But today, many years after his death his books are still being read. The crowd wa wrong. .....

Could the crowds of today be wrong. In the descreation of the Lord's Day in the world's attitude to gain material things, could not the crowd be wrong?

Friends, you are one of crowd . . . could you be wrong? Tell me, what is your attitude toward a loving God and the claims of His Son upon your life? Tell me, what is your attitude toward the forgiveness of your sins againt a Holy God and an eternal life He offers you here and now. Think of God's amazing gift: "The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23). Have more wonderful words ever fallen upon human ears than these. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16i. .....

You can be wrong, and the crowd can be wrong, about many things in the world, but you dare not be wrong about Christ. Through faith in Him you are saved just now where you are and as you are. Your sins can be forgiven and the peace of God can flood your heart and soul. "As many as received Him, to them gave He the power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name" (John 1:12).

WEST GUILFORD

(Held over from last week)

Our district was greeted this morning by a heavy fall of snow, we rushed around putting cardboard boxes over some choice Dutch bulbs which haven't yet become accustomed to our changeable Canadian spring weather, and are already in full bud. Warm weather is just around the corner tho, the fishermen are milling around impatiently waiting for the opening of the trout fishing. Reeve Black and a party were at Macdonalds Lake last Saturday looking the situation over. Righty Deacon found 104 snakes of different varieties, in one hole on his farm. Bill Barnum is at his cottage on Redstone ready for a busy season after his southern trip. Mr. Bailey from Hornby is busy building a new cottage on Long Lake. Mr. Bailey is looking forward to becoming a permanent resident. Grenville Griffin of Toronto has been home for two weeks helping his dad cut a few logs. Mrs. Ross and Miss Gayla Pritchard have returned from a visit to North Bay where they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Sameless, of the Dept. of Lands and Forests. Mr. Wayne Griffin has been spending a few days at his home on Centre Lake. Mrs. L. Morrison has returned from Powassin where she was assisting Mr. George Jones celebrate his 83rd birth day. .....

There was quite a bit of excitement at the corner on Monday when the fire which had been started in some rubbish at Hellems got out of control and swept over the grass. The fire engine came in from Habiburton in answer to a telephone call but the neighbours were pretty well in control of the situation by the time it arrived, Mrs. B. Barjarow will spend a few days with her daughter Mrs. Hill of Bobcaygeon this week, Mrs. Hill is undergoing an operation. There appears to be several sick children in our midst Mrs. J. Henderson's granddaughter and Mrs. J. Cooper's youngest daughter ore both confined to bed with heavy colds. .....

Unpleasant News for the Taxpayers

The financial report of the Dysart Community Hall and Park Board is certainly not the type of report that the taxpayer can enthuse over; in fact it could seem that it is just another weight he must be saddled with on his already overburdened back.

Just how much can the Dysart taxpayers stand? We believe that he is carrying much too heavy a tax load now, and it certainly looks as though he will have to have a few more mills added to his assessment to cover the deficit of 971.73 shown in the above mentioned report.

With the sky-rocketing cost of education, roads, local improvements and a relief expenditure that seems outrageous, and then to have to foot the bills for a community hall and arena that should be showing a profit instead of a huge loss is putting it on a bit too thick. The people are asking and they have good reason to ask; why this loss? The arena appeared to be drawing splendid crowds to the hockey matches, skating carnivals etc. all winter, yet the rink shows a loss of $557.61.

We have citizens in Haliburton who are agitating for artificial ice in the arena. From information that we have gathered, we understand that it would cost approximately $20.00 per day to operate the ice plant alone and it would cost in the neighborhood of 40,000.00 to install it. Where do these gentlemen think all this money is going to come from? We suggest that the present buildings be managed in such a way that they can show a profit, before entertaining such extravagant ideas as artificial ice etc.

According to the report, the community hall shows a loss of $414.12. This we can understand, for in its present condition, it is not a fit place to hold anything in the way of entertainment. If ever a public building needed a thorough overhauling, this one certainly does. The interior is a disgrace and it is also a fire trap.

Council should immediately investigate these losses and find ways and means of putting these buildings, which play such an important role in the life of the community on a paying basis.

The Salvation Army

The Salvation Army, one of the world's most practical-minded movements, operates by means of powerful twin forces, faith and works.

Faith in God and His attributes - mercy, goodness, truth - is dominant in the Salvation Army's program. Then comes faith in man - his place in the Creator's plan, his ability to rise to higher and nobler things. Without this faith all efforts to rehabilitate men will fail, and The Salvation Army believes that they have both history and experience to support this contention.

Faith, of course, must be accompanied by works. Two oars are required to propel a boat and keep it on its course. The Salvation Army does not move in circles. With faith and works it forges ahead. It may well be likened to the Good Samaritan of life's dangerous roads where lie those about to perish and needing immediate aid.

The Salvation Army has faith and does the work. Like every human organization it needs money to carry on that work. The current Red Shield Appeal, we feel certain, will reach its objective.

Lands and Forests Meeting in Minden

While the helicopter was in our area, a further demonstration of its possibilities in detecting and checking smokes was given by the pilot Jack Godsey and this feature of seeing a smoke and checking the origin on the spot was indeed a satisfying experience.

Local showers and snow flurries during the latter part of the week have reduced our fire hazard to a low rating but we would remind everyone that our Spring fire hazard is not over and every precaution must be continued in regard to clean-up burning, smoking materials, etcetera.

Last Tuesday afternoon. our Summer Operator's Meeting was held at the Minden Chief Ranger's Headquarters, and a good turnout of Summer Logging Operators, Hydro and Highway Officials, Representatives from Municipal Councils and Sawmill Operators, were on hand. Opportunity was taken by the District Foreester to introduce Mr. W. B. Greenwood, our new Regional Forester to the group.

Various aspects of Forests Protection pertaining to the operators were discussed, with ample opportunity given for open discussion. A short talk was given by J. C. Charbonneau, Insect Ranger, on insects likely to be encountered in the district this Summer, with recommended control measures. The Helicopter was landed at the Headquarters for general inspection by the group and the meeting was closed with the presentation of two films; Fires in North Western Ontario and common errors in fire fighting.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor:

Would appreciate having space in your paper for this short report:

On April 16th., I attended a meeting in the Town Hall at Lindsay—A meeting well represented by groups interested in the operation of the Ross Memorial Hospital. Mr. Harry Johnston, the Chairman, outlined the purpose of the meeting and the business to be discussed. This meeting was to be the climax to several previous ones, and the question was—"Will it be possible to build more rooms or be forced to close it down"? Mr. Johnston pointed out that the governing Board could not possibly carry on under present conditions of operating in the red.

The Chairman called on Mr. T. H. Stinson, President of the Ross Memorial Hospital for twenty five years. Mr. Stinson gave a fine report of the operation of the hospital staeing that until the past four or five years it had paid its way but, like many other hospitals, has in the last few years been operating at a loss.

We were reminded that this grand hospital, along with a cash legacy, was given to the town of Lindsay, Victoria and Haliburton Counties, some fifty-one years ago, by a mas who was concerned about the care of our people. Let us not forget!

During all these years, no member of the governing Board has received renumeration of any kind for their many services. I believe they deserve much thanks for the fine job they have done.

Mr. William Newman, a Layman serving the Counties for a great many years, was in favour of enlarging the hospital and said now was the time and past the time to get out and do your bit.

Several of the Doctors spoke and it was pointed out that the overcrowding made it almost impossible for the staff to carry on as so much extra work was necessary due to this condition.

Mr. Dan McQuarry was also very much in favour of building a new wing which, it is expected, will cost over a mllion dollars. Mr. McQuarry stated that after having a hospital such as the Ross Memorial given to us, we should not hesitate to propromote and help in any way we can to build the new wing.

The Mayor of Lindsay and Warden of Victoria County both spoke and it was their opinion that something should be done to raise funds and build the new wing immediately. I would liked to have said a few words but being a bit shy, just listened. I do think the Ross Memorial Hospital has been a great asset to the County of Haliburton. Our Doctors have sent many patients to Lindsay by train and by car. I have taken many by car back in 1914-25 when it took hours for the trip. Now the hospital is only minutes away for a great many people of the County, much closer than thousands of people are to a hospital in the city Toronto. I am hoping, when a full report is made re the new proposed wing, the citizens, the Township and the County Councils will think it over carefully and give it all the support they can.

It is no time to close hospitals—Make them bigger and better.

e

W. R. Curry, Representing North Entrance Lodge A.F. & A.M. 463 and the Haliburton Rotary Club.

The Story of a Hat

I went up to town to the milliners store,
To purchase a hat I had tried on before.
In my mind, the creation appeared constantly
And I hoped it was still in the store millinery.

With my best friend beside me away we did go,
At the store in the window, the hat was on show,
There were others about, but for me in my pride,
For the one in the window my willfull heart cried.

The hat was a leghorn trimmed in exquisite taste,
With a dear little veil that went over the face.
And my friend said the hat—well was simply divine,
If I was much younger the hat could be mine.

For the years they have wrinkled my face up a bit
If I looked in my mirror I might notice it,
So I put down the beautiful hat with a pat
And I bought for myself a more sensible hat.

Now history repeats itself year after year,
For things in the past in new form reappear.
In my mind runs a story, a story of old,
Of the days of my youth that has never been told.

With my mother I went to the millinery store,
Now the years that have passed are two score or more,
And the hat of my youth was laid down with a pat
For we couldn't afford such a beautiful hat

There were others to hat in our big family,
Mother just couldn't spend all the money on me,
So she bought me a little straw tricorn of brown.
As sensible as you would see in the town.

In the evening my Grandma, who lived up the block,
Said to get myself ready, we'd go for a walk,
So I tied up the lace that was loose in my shoe
And I put on the little brown tricorn so new.

The streets of the town they were ever so wide.
But the blackness of night made me fearful inside,
Up the street blew the wind in a terrible gale
So I clung to my hat but my skirts sure did sail.

As we turned at the corner a bell clanged some where,
For a moment my heart was just filled with despair,
But I clung to my tricorn, the hat that was new,
For I just couldn't lose it; but how the wind blew.

Down the road came the fire reels lickety skoot
With four galloping horses as black as your boot,
From the great engines belly belched fire and smoke
For the steam engine had to be fired with coke.

In the blackness of night it is easy to see
What a frightening sight fire reels used to be,
For a moment I didn't know where I was at
Then in a split second away blew my hat.

Up the street blew my tricorn and on to the road
In the path of the steam engines firey load.
Could I rescue my hat; 'twas impossible to,
So I just stood and cried, for what else could I do.

As the lovely creations of hats meet my eye
To mind comes the leghorn mother just couldn't buy,
Though the hat of my youth never ceases to be
Its the little brown tricorn I find that suits me.

MINDEN ROTARY

Monday saw an almost perfect attendance and those present were rewarded with a varied program, which was under the direction of Harold Morgan.

First we had Ed. Sims a fairly recent comer to Minden who told of his war time experiences on a trip to and work at what is now known as GOOSE BAY" airport in Labrador. Going there they missed topeedoing twice by a turn of fate. Work there which at that time was the erection of accommodation for army and air force personnell, and which was always facing shortages due to non arrival of supplies thru sinkings and in some cases substantial and amazing material were flown in.

Harold must have thought he had a class in Geography, for after Mr. Sim's interesting account we were favored with a film on another Canadian hinterland point of recent development that is the mining area of Yellowknife, and then to completely change the scene we were taken by a camera eye to the round up of a wild elephant in Africa. Truly we had an educational evening and the thanks of the club was expressed by our newest member Tom. Newell.

WEST GUILFORD

We were much impressed at the hockey banquet last Friday with the adroit manner with which Stewart Wilson directed the games and handled the large group of young people gathered in the auditorium. The respect and affection the children gave him was evident too, in their each other.

We have met Mr. Wilson and his attractive wife, at several of our community gatherings, and we have noticed his truck travelling our roads, picking up or delivering the young people to and from their activities. We investigated some of these activities and have found that—besides his regeular Sunday services, Sunday School, and prayer meetings, in connection with the Gospel Hall, he regularly works with our children and young people in community service.

On Thursday at 4 p.m. there is a meeting for children up to the age of 11 years. The Beacan Youth Club meets also on Thursday at 7 p.m. This club includes ihildren in the age group 11-14 from both West Guilford and Eagle Lake. On Friday at 8 p.m. the young people of the community meet. These meetings all begin with a devotional period, followed by supervised games and finish with a lunch. Another phase and one which meets with the hearty approval of the parents, is that Stu. personally sees that the young people reach home safely and are not wandering around unsupervised after dark.

It is from such group gatherings and co'operative play that the foundations for future good citizens are laid. West Guilford is indeed fortunate to have such inspiring a youth leader living in our midst.

There was a meeting of the Orange Ladies in the Orange Hall at West Guilford on Friday, April 17.

Confirmation class, held in St. Andrew's Anglican church at West Guilford and conducted by Mr. Cathcart was the first of a series which will be held at regular intervals throughout the summer leading up to the confirmation service which will be held sometime in the late summer by the late summer by the Bishop.

The Baptist Mission Circle was held this week at the home of Mrs. Bud Sims on Grass Lake.

The Sunday service in the school auditorium was well attended by members of the community who enjoyed the music, provided by the Gospel Hall.

The Baptist Church will show lantern slides at their church on Pine Lake, Friday, April 24.

On Saturday evening, April 25 there is a party being held in the auditorium of the school for Maisie Sisson in honour of her marriage to Mr. Ken Sheldon of Toronto. More details on this next week, it promises to be a gala event.

Sure signs of warm weather—we notice the lumber buyers flocking around looking over the season's cut. Most of the mills are going full blast now, but there are still some men out of work.

Mr. Cecil Stamp has been quite ill at his home at the corner.

On Friday evening citizens of West Guilford and Eagle Lake joined forces in a community banquet for our junior hockey players. The large crowd was a good cross section of our district, a fine example of community co'-operation. The supper was served by the women of the community and the supplies were donated by the residents, many who could not attend in person, sending their contribution. In the absence of the West Guilford teaching staff, Mrs. Joy Fielding from Maple Lake Staff was present with her usual encouraging interest. Our trustee Mr. J. Cooper took time off from his business to have supper, and watch some of the games. Mrs. George Jones donated her janitor services for this event, and both stores sent some food. In addition there were representatives from all the orbanizations in West Guilford, to mention a few—Mrs. C. Sawyer of the Community Guild, Mrs. Bud Sims of the Baptist Mission Circle, Mrs. C. Stamp of the Anglican W.A. Mr. Giles Clancy of the Orange order, Mrs. J. Cooper of the Gospel Hall, Mrs. Ken Sisson from the Golf Club. There were alschool, of whom Audrey Woods in her customary helpful manner gave a hand with the dishwashing. After the supper Ray Bain presented Mr. Wilson with a gift of appreciation for his work with the hockey. In his reply Stewart expressed his thanks to the boys for their co'operation and noted that boys from both Eagle Lake and West Guilford had spent a pleasant and profitable winter together. He remarked that they had done very well in the games, considering the fact thatthey did not have the arena to practice on as did some of their opponents. He hoped for more and better hockey next winter and spoke of a ball team this summer. The crests which had been ordered had not arrived in time for the presentation, so will be presented next week. Using as text verse 8 from first Timothy—4. Mr. Wilson co'-related the ideas of good sportsmanship, good citizenship, with Christian fellowship as the final goal. Following this talk the entire company enjoyed games which Stewart ably supervised.

Help the Salvation Army

It's awfully easy to forget suffering that's a million miles away from you. But it's there just the same. And it's not always a million miles away . . . some of it is right around the corner. Even THAT is too easy to forget. But there are those who do not forget. Day in and day out, night after ministers to those wro suffer and are in need. Seventy night the Salvation Army years ago the Salvation Army came to Canada and during all that time it has steadily fought for the underprivileged, the wronged, the suffering, the lonely and the poor. It is known as the Army of Mercy to thousands of little people. But all the good it has been able to do, has been on YOUR behalf . . . as the instrument of your good-will—you who support the Salvation Army with your money during the annual Red Shield appeals. There's one on right now. The Salvation Army will call at your door . . . when that happens, remember those who are so easy to forget, and please be generous.

SERVE CANADA

Soldiers like those of the airborne infantry are helping to guard Canada, ready to drop into action wherever danger threatens. The young man who joins the Army and has completed his Infantry training may then volunteer to start training for the proud wings of Canada's "Soldiers of the Sky."

AND YOURSELF

How does a man choose a job? He examines the pay; the working conditions; the opportunities for advancement; the financial security. From every one of these aspects an Army career is excellent. And more — no monotony of being stuck for years in one place; pension plans after 20 years service; medical and dental care whenever needed — without regard for cost or time. Opportunities for training and advancement in the Army today are truly outstanding.

IN THE ARMY

Soldiering is a man's life! There are challenges and dangers. But wherever you go, in the Army, you know you can rely on your comrades, trained fighting men who share with you the action of military life. If you think an Army career is for you, enquire about the opportunities for service with the Infantry — the most important men in the Canadian Army.

You are eligible to join the Army if you are 17 to 40 years of age and able to meet Army test requirements. Applicants should bring birth certificates or other proof of age when reporting for interview.

RADIO SPEECH

DELIVERED BY CLAYTON W. HODGSON, M.P.

April 25, 1953

My friends of Victoria, Haliburton and North Ontario Counties:

It is a privilege to have this opportunity to speak to you today and I wish at this time to thank the radio station for this courtesy. It may be my last radio talk this season, as this session of Parliament will end within the next two weeks. This has been a very interesting session of Parliament, with many Members making political speeches. It was their last chance before the General Election, and Cabinet Ministers were making excuses for failures in their respective Departments. The Minister who has led in dominance has been Mr. Howe, with his words—"We will spend as we like, who will stop us?" "What is a million dollars" and "Oh, nuts" "just peanuts." Statements such as these have been made by Liberals, but now they have to face the people in a General Election, but do they want to? With twenty two vacant seats in the Senate and a few Judgeships and other soft, cushy jobs, all the Liberal members are aspiring for these, to see who can grab off these plums rather than take their chances on re-election.

A Liberal leader, speaking in London a few days ago, said "We must sell a package of Liberalism to the people who now may be doubting which way to cast their ballot.' He said, "If the Liberal Party does not retain its strength, it will be because we, as practical Liberals, have not been successful salesmen." It's only the start of the campaign. Mr. Oliver should have benefited from the results of the last Provincial Election. Paul Martin also spoke in Lindon on this occasion. He said: "Had it not been for the man who leads the Liberal government, a national catastrophe would have hit this country a few weeks ago." The reference was to the fact that Mr. St. Laurent had induced the railways to give the unions what they wanted. He said "The Prime Minister came into the House of Commons with tears rolling down his face to announce that a settlement had been reached." This was a most exaggerated statement as I was there myself in the House at the time and the Prime Minister was a long way from tears rolling down his face. In fact, he wore a smile of triumph.

While the date of the General Election is still secret, the main issue is clear. That issue has been set forth by the Prime Minister himself. On March 16th, in the House of Commons, referring to statements by George Drew that the Government has been, and is wasting your money, Mr. St. Laurent made this statement: "We are going to submit, within the next few months, that issue to Canadian electerate." The Conservative party accepts that as a frank and timely statement. We hope the Liberal Party will stick to this issue, so firmly laid down by its leader.

We want to make our stand equally clear. We stand firmly by our charges that there has been gross waste, extravagance, overtaxing and inefficiency in the spending of your money. You do not have to accept our word. We have the word of others, whose business it is to know about these facts, to support our statements.

First, we are supported by the Auditor General of Canada, who knows about these facts. The Auditor General reported to Parliament gross careelessness resulting in overpayments of your money, with no effort made by the Government to recover. He reported also that the Government allows chaotic accounting conditions, giving rise to this waste, with no effort being made to improve that situation.

Second, we are supported by the Currie Report, with its startling disclosures. The Minister of National Defence told us that—"If we search the length and breadth of Canada, we could not find a better man than Mr. Currie." We agree with that statement, but Mr. Currie found waste and extravagance at Petawawa. Mr. Currie said, "It is an unhappy circumstance that the beginning of this investigation lies not inside the Department, but with the receipt of an anonymous letter addressed to the Commissioner of the Mounted Police." He stated he had come to the enclusion that there had been a general breakdown in the system of administration, supervision and accounting, and that his view would be that the generally lax administrative situation would give rise to waste and inefficiency far more costly in loss than that covered by actual dishonesty. But most important of all, we are supported by the disclosures of waste and extravagance brought out in Parliament and in the various committees.

Did you know that the Government paid over $13,000 to have one well drilled out at Penhold? Any one of you who lives on a farm knows that in many cases this would be enough to buy a whole farm with buildings, land and wells complete. But then, not content with paying $13,000 for a well, they paid another $1,000 for a little pump house eight feet square to cover the pump. Did you know that under the heading of Defence spending, the Government has bought enough naval hatbands to last until 1975? Or that it has paid over $800,000 for enough rugs and carpets to cover a road 30 feet wide for 6 miles? Or that it has spent nearly half a million dollars for enough linoleum to cover 24 acres. All these purchases have been made with your money. Did you know that at Penhold, Alberta there was a flying training school which was built during the last war at a cost in the neighborhood of one and a half million dollars, thatthey abandoned and dismantled that school, and are now rebuilding a new one for exactly the same purposes, on exactly the same site, at a cost of over eleven and a half million dollars?

Mr. Howe is certainly an expert on spending—he boasts that he has spent more of your money than anyone else in Canada. He is the man who said. "We might have saved a million, but what's a million anyway " His attitude certainly raises the question, does he know or care anything at all about saving? Any person can be a great producer, if ...given a free hand with the people's money. We find that in 23 months, 1,150,000 neckties were purchased at a cost of approximately $380,000. Are you satisfied when you find that, when attention was drawn to it in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister himself said he did not know why over a million neckties were required, that it may very well be that that was a mistake.

Did you know that the government used your money to rescue a private company from the threat of bankruptcy? The Government put up over $1,000,000 of your money to enable a private shipbuilding firm to build ships for the Chinese, and then in a burst of generosity wrote off $450,000 of that advance. They justified this on the grounds that otherwise the company might have gone bankrupt. Then, not content with this charity at your expense, they gave this private firm a number of cost plus contracts to build naval vessels for the Government, on which they have paid that company to date, a fixed fee of $449,000, over and above their guaranteed costs. Pretty generous treatment of a private company—to write off $450,000 of an advance one day, and then turn around and pay them afee of $449,000 the next day—and let them keep both. No wonder they have plenty of campaign money to buy votes and hire and pay secretaries.

Incidentally, the twelve ships built for China are now in the hands of the Communists, and the Government passed a secret Order-in Council enabling them to fly the Canadian Flag while they were serving the Communists, while the tax-payers continue to pay the guarantee on the notes due to the banks for their construction, and your sons and mine are offering their lives to defeat this very idealology in Korea.

And the examples of waste and extravagance are not confined to Defence spending. Take a look at some items for non-defence spending. Did you know that Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has built a palace for its head office at a cost of $2,267,000? How many houses could you buy for that amount? The Government paid $824 an acre for over 200 acres of land on which this mansion is built. Into the building went $40,000 of your money for an auditorium. The spring filled dance floor in the auditorium was another little "extra" — a few thousand dollars. That floor alone represents the annual income of many a wage earner who is supporting a wife and children. The cost of the house for the Prime Minister now stands at over $700,000. This amount would build and furnish seventy houses for some of our homeless citizens.

The Conservative Party has been doing everything possible to expose these examples of waste, and to save your money. That is our duty as an opposition party. But the Government has done everything possible to interfere with the discharge of that duty. Last year we demand detailed information of the huge sum of $668,000,000 spent on aircraft production. This was refused and voted down by the Government majority. We demanded the production of Auditors' reports on the scandals at Petawawa. These were refused and voted down by the Government majority. We asked to have Mr. Currie appointed to continue his inquiry. This was voted down by the Government majority. We called for the full reports made by the Chief Auditor. This was again voted down by the Government majority. We requested information of other reports on Army Works Services. This request was refused by the Government majority. Twice in the House of Commons we demanded the production of these same reports, including the McNab Report. On both occasions, the Liberal majority was used to withhold this information. With respect to the last report—the McNab Report—the Government actually pretended at first there was no such report. Then some parts of it became public through other sources. On one day the Prime Minister first made a further denial of its existence, then because thepress carried an interview with its author, was compelled an hour later to reverse himself and admit that it did exist and that theey knew all about it.

But on that same day, March 16th, the Prime Minister added a new one to the catalogue of schemes which the Government uses to preserve the iron curtain of secrecy it has built up around public expenditure. He announced that in the last analysis his Government was required to produce to Parlament only such information as a majority vote might force them to do. And so the iron curtain of secrecy it has built up around public expenditure. He announced that in the last analysis his Government was required to produce to Parliament only such information as a majority vote might force them to do. And so the iron curtain of secrecy is bolstered by the use of their huge and willing majority in the House of Commons — a majority which by no stretch of the imagination can be said to represent public opnion in the country today.

Now the fact that they tried to keep the McNab Report secret is not the only serious aspect of this incident. There is the other important fact, that Mr. McNab's findings as to waste and inefficiency are exactly the same as those in Mr. Currie's report.

In the light of this evidence of waste and extravagance on the one hand, and of the most undemocratic efforts ever displayed to conceal it on the other, ask yourselves those two simple questions—you who are paying the bill.

First — What are they trying to hide?

Second — How much more of your money, on top of the millions already known, have been and are being wasted today?

If, in the light of these few of the many examples of waste, extravagance and gross inefficiency, and of the efforts to conceal the acts and deny information, and the over-burden of taxation and the spending of public money, you feel it is time for a change, then we ask for your co-operation now and right up to and on the day of the election.

On that day, you, the taxpayer, will be supreme. By your vote, you can eliminate this Government which thinks it knows better than you how to spend your money, and elect one which will invite your co-operation in finding ways to save it. The Conservative Party, given a mandate, will throw open the books, and eradicate the waste and extravagance that his crept into the spending of public money by this Government too long in office, for the welfare of Canada.

Good afternoon and thank you!

Shower For Pat. Welch

MINDEN — Miss Pat Welch, whose marriage to Mr. Donald Campbell of Peterborough takes place on Wednesday, May 13th, was suddenly summoned from Girl's Guild meeting she was attending in the School Room of the Parish Hall to see someone at the door of the Church. There she found about 85 friends ready to shower gifts and good wishes on her. While her aunt, Mrs. Noel Leigh played the wedding march, she was escorted to the basement and to a chair decorated especially in her honour.

A very fitting address was prepared and delivered by Mrs. Dick Kirkwood, who also turned over to Pat a sheet of paper for all her friends to sign.

A decorated wheelbarrow was then wheeled in, loaded with gifts and the bride-to-be, assisted by Miss Sylvia Howard, opened the gifts and passed them around for each person to see.

Her response to her friends was a most sincere "thank you admitting it was the nicest guild meeting she had ever attended.

A luncheon was then served at gaily decorated tables and brought a wonderful evening to a close.

Letters to the Editor

NEW HOPE FOR THE STRUGGLING RESORT OPERATOR.

April 25th, 1953

The Editor
Haliburton County Echo
Haliburton, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

When we started our resort here we at once joined the Tourist Association, but were surprised and distressed to find so poorly supported by the other branches of the tourist industry, the merchants, for example, good men who might have made their presence felt on the executive. With the coming of the new Chamber of Commerce, however, the picture seems to have changed. Those merchants are willingly joining up, and more power to them, say I!

I was in no position to criticise before, but this time I feel I need to pull no punches for it is small resort operators like ourselves, I hear, who are holding back; those who should be especially interested in developing the area, in making the season longer and busier, in making our Highlands really popular so that we can at last adjust our rates to be more commensurate with the service we want to give, to pull us out of the "struggling" class. This should be a job for us all, the butcher, the baker and the rest too. Consider what could happen to property values, not to speak of such as the building trades!

The old Tourist Association which started so hopefully and for which a few people worked so hard and unselfishly was bound eventually to die, for one reason only, . . . lack of support and the non-co-operation of the different branches of the industry and those many others indirectly dependent upon it.

Now is our chance to recover lost ground, to get together, all of us, by joining the new Chamber of Commerce.

If a few of us hold back, the results cannot be the same, and, as time goes on, even the enthusiasts will lose heart one by one, and no one will profit by all the effort. The next thing we know will be the final defeat of another brave campaign and if that happens, who will have the heart to begin again?

Speaking for myself, I feel I can ill afford a fee which offers no immediate yield in dollars and cents, but I do know we must all be in on this movement. We must give it a chance to grow and ultimately produce. It will need all the membership fees we can raise. So I willingly pay up, and hope. I know also that as long as I am a member I have a vote, and that the voice of the majority will always win. The smaller resort operators are in the majority and we only have to vote for those men (or women) who will work for the common good.

What then is the reason for this holding back among the smaller resort operators? I think they have lost faith. Most people believe we have a popular and able president for the new Chamber of Commerce and feel real confidence in it's new secretary, so we must look elsewhere for the cause.

When the chamber was formed our branch should have at once got together to iron out our problems and decide on our policy and action, but we have not had one meeting yet. Our thanks are certainly due to those who have "held the fort" in the meantime, but surely we should know by this time for whom we are going to vote as our two representatives to the Chamber. That is the most important thing we have to do and it must not be done without discussion and thought.

Such men should be enthusiastic, experienced (without being stale) and able, but they must also be willing to tackle the work. Above all, they should reside in the area all the year round and so be available for much more frequent meetings than we have had for some time past. There you have it! That, I believe, is the reason we were looking for! So, let us all get together for a meeting, (even though we are all so busy now) while there is still time before the June meeting of the Chamber. Perhaps after such a meeting we shall all pay our fees of membership, even if it is only so that the very smallest of us can have a vote with a voice as loud as that of the biggest. Look what other areas have achieved! Surely it's worth it.

Yours truly,
David Edwards.

Burtons Store Being Re-modelled

CARNARVAN — To keep pace with the rapid growth of Carnarvon and the surrounding district, the Burton General Store is being completely remodelled in order to give faster and more efficient service to its customers.

Besides carrying a large stock of fishing tackle and other sporting equipment one may purchase hardware, clothing, shoes, patent medicines and druggist's sundries and a new self service groceteria is being installed which will carry an extensive line of fresh groceries, meats, fruits and vegetables.

All this, combined with a large parking area, will make "Burton's" a very popular and busy shopping centre.
